

LA FOLLETTE TO GIVE SPEECHES

Senator Intimates That He Will Make Addresses In Favor Of Lenroot.

OUT FOR CHAUTAUQUA LECTURES

Has Not Much To Say Beyond Generalities Regarding The State Situation--Passed Through Janesville Last Night.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 3.—Senator R. M. La Follette is on a trip to Iowa to make two speeches, and will return to his summer home Friday for a rest of a few days. He will shortly make a number of public addresses touching upon the political situation in Wisconsin, and will especially urge the nomination of Speaker F. L. Lenroot of Superior as the republican candidate for governor. The other candidates, Governor Davidson and Senator J. J. McGillivray of Black River Falls, are seeking to cause the senator head of the Wisconsin republican organization to change his plans and refrain from stamping the state for Lenroot, but it is so unlike La Follette to respond to influence of this kind that little hope is indulged in.

COL. FRANK EAGER A SELF-MADE MAN

Who Began Life as Newsboy and Has Carved Out Fame and Fortune in Thirty-four Years. A Visitor Here.

Col. Frank Eager, one of that type of alert, active, square-jawed western men who become subjects for the historian before they are thirty, was a pleasant caller at the Gazette office last evening. Col. Eager is thirty-four, modest in demeanor and bearing, and a delightful conversationalist. In the space of a few years, he has been a soldier, a newspaper publisher, and a promoter of industrial enterprises which have made for him the foundation for a large fortune. He went to the Philippines with the 1st Nebraska volunteers, the first regiment to land after Dewey crushed the Spanish fleet, and fought both the Manila and the natives in a series of engagements which began on the beach and ended with the capture of the city. During his fifteen months' service he was wounded in the right foot by a Mauser bullet.

He bought the Lincoln (Nebraska) Independent for $200, made it a power in the politics of the state, and by sheer pluck and daring, unassisted by any ready money, built up a plant large enough to print both the original paper for which it was intended and Bryan's Commoner. When the owner of the building in which the office was situated demanded too much rent the publisher printed a picture of a $5,000 lot on which he proposed to erect a building of his own dedicated to "the cause of liberty."

With a five-years-subscription-for-$3 endless chain scheme he raised $9,000 in cash among those of the political faith for which his paper stood. The building erected is worth $25,000 and the paper which he has disposed of has a subscription list ranging between 25,000 and 30,000.

He took hold of the Duplex graphophone invention, devoted every cent he could call to his aid to advertising, and within three months' time—before provision could be made for manufacturing a single one of the new machines—had landed $40,000 worth of business. The factory is now going up at Kalamazoo, Mich. It is to employ 125 men. Just before coming to Evansville to visit relatives Col. Eager placed a contract for $10,000 worth of advertising with the Long-Critchfield Corporation of Chicago, one of the leading concerns in the business. He has a beautiful home at Lincoln, but is located for the present, at least, in the Michigan city.

Col. and Mrs. Eager, his aunt, Mrs. Olive Eager of Evansville, and his cousin, Miss Gertrude Eager, returned to Evansville last evening after spending the day in Janesville.

LEFT TRAIN WHILE HUSBAND SLUMBERED

Passenger on Limited Wandered Off at Some Station on Madison Division of North-Western.

Employees on the Madison division of the Chicago & North-Western railway have been given orders to watch for a woman who is supposed to have wandered from the limited train which passes through here from the north at 6:15 o'clock in the morning. The advice says that she was traveling with her husband and when he awoke as the train pulled into Harvard she was gone. He states that she was subject to spells of mental aberration and believes that she left the train at some station between Janesville and Baraboo. He gave the following description of her: medium height, dark hair, dark eyes, no hat, black waist, light gray skirt and one noticeable gold tooth in front of mouth.

WARRANTS FOR THE ARREST OF SYRIANS

Who Are Alleged to Have Mulcted Forzly Bros. of Money and Property Valued at $120 Have Been Issued.

Warrants for the arrest of two Syrians, Louis Steven and Joseph Lane, whose whereabouts are at present unknown, were given out this morning by Forzly Bros., proprietors of the chapeau store at No. 8 East Milwaukee street. The two men are charged with stealing $73 in cash, a gold watch valued at $35, and a coat. They made their appearance here about two weeks ago and had been frequenting the store on Milwaukee street up to the time of their sudden disappearance Sunday. As all the little Syrian colonies throughout the country are in close communication with one another the chances of eventually landing the malefactors are considered good.

"MOTHER" EDDY IS RICHER THAN DOWIE HOPED TO BE

Absolute Head Of Christian Science Church Considered Above Multi-Millionaire Class.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Boston, Mass., July 3.—An edition of Mrs. Eddy's "Science and Health" run off during the past week by the Cambridge Press brings the total issue of this work to date up to 488,000 copies. These figures in themselves form one of the most striking commentaries on the marvelous executive and business skill of the 85-year-old woman who is the mainspring of the Christian Science movement. Figures made public at the recent annual communion in this city showing the increase in the number of Christian Science churches and communicants were surprising even to those who have closely followed the spread of the movement. Where but a few years ago the churches were numbered by scores they are now to be counted in the thousands. There is scarcely a community in any part of the land where the church has not gained a foothold. These branch churches are all under the absolute control of Mrs. Eddy, who is "Pastor Emeritus" of the Mother Church in this city, and as "Mother" of the whole church has undisputed power. Though 85 years old, this wonderful woman displays all the energy and capacity of a young business woman. In an indirect but effective way she controls everything, and with the great growth of the church her wealth has proportionately increased. Even her most trusted lieutenants are said to have but a faint idea of the actual bulk of her fortune. It is safe to say, however, that "Mother" Eddy's private fortune has now reached the figures that eclipse the most ambitious dreams of Dr. Dowie. Through the hundreds of Christian Science churches and reading-rooms in this and other lands, Mrs. Eddy pushes the sale of her book "Science and Health." The "Church Manual," written by Mrs. Eddy, commands all readers in the church to read only from "Science and Health" and the Bible. The price of the cheapest copy that can be had is $3. It is said that the actual cost of making the book is less than 50 cents. The profits go to Mrs. Eddy personally. More than 488,000 copies have been sold, so that at the lowest estimate she has made from this source alone upwards of $1,200,000. But there are more expensive copies, ranging in price up to $6. Her other books are also sold for her benefit through the church and its reading-rooms. With the $1,000,000 she is alleged to have made out of the Massachusetts Metaphysical College, which she founded in 1881, and the vast sums she is supposed to have made during her early career as a healer, although there is no means of telling how much money she derived from the last-named source, it may be seen at a glance that the "Mother" of Christian Science possesses a fortune that cannot be equaled by many of those listed in the multi-millionaire class. Moreover the revenues are increasing by geometrical progression and there does not appear to be any danger of the "systems" being disturbed by inquisitive investigating committees.

HOST TAKES THE STAND IN THE HOUSER INQUIRY NOW

He Tells Of The Alleged Attempt To Bribe Him With Two Thousand Dollars.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 3.—The cross-examination of Insurance Commissioner Zeno M. Host, complaining witness in the trial of Secretary of State Walter L. Houser on a charge of attempted bribery, was continued and completed this morning, the attorneys for the defense attempting to show that the commissioner was personally hostile to the secretary of state and for this reason gave out a story of an alleged criminal offense after having kept it to himself for almost three years. In the main, however, the testimony of the insurance commissioner was not shaken. He repeated his former statements concerning the alleged visit of Houser to the insurance office on the morning of June 16, 1902, when Host says Houser made the offer of the Equitable Life Assurance society to give $2,000 to the La Follette republican campaign fund in exchange for a favorable decision of the surplus distribution case which was that day on for hearing before the commissioner of insurance. For eight hours the attorneys for Secretary of State Walter L. Houser cross-examined Host, trying to show that Host had become a personal and political enemy of Houser and for this reason made the charge of attempted bribery for which Houser is now on trial before a jury. Host, however, held to his story that on June 16, 1902, Houser came to him and asked to have a decision favorable to the Equitable Life Assurance society rendered by Host in the surplus distribution case, so that the company would contribute $2,000 to the republican campaign fund. Host's examination was finished this afternoon.

FINISH TESTIMONY BEFORE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

Ex-Senator William F. Vilas Appeared Before The Committee This Morning.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 3.—The taking of testimony in the legislative investigation of the University of Wisconsin closed today with the examination of Col. William F. Vilas, formerly United States senator and twice a member of the cabinet under President Cleveland. Col. Vilas was for years a member of the board of university regents. His testimony was largely devoted to a financial exposition of university fiscal management, and a careful explanation and justification of the deficit of $400,000 in the university fund. He argued that it was profitable for the state to loan from the general fund to the university in advance of the collection of state taxes each year, at which time the university tax becomes available. The committee also had President Van Hise before it to explain a number of administrative features. It is said that the committee has come to the conclusion that the university is not the hotbed of corruption that some members of the special session of the legislature thought it was, and that the report of the investigating committee will be one of general approval of the university management, but with a large number of recommendations for administrative improvement and the introduction of more economy. The committee is composed of Senator Wylie, and Assemblymen McGregor, Peterson and Donald.

Is Again Declared by Mayor Hutchinson—City Attorney Is to Investigate the Law.

Licenses to saloons and breweries and permits to pharmacies which will net the city and county a total revenue of $25,600 during the coming year were granted by the city council last evening. W. H. Carroll, 119 W. Milwaukee street, filed his application for a license but failed to attach the check for $500. He was given until this day noon to deposit the cash, the city attorney being authorized to issue the license. That will make the grand total of revenue $26,100.

Mayor Attacks Druggists.

All the aldermen were present at the adjourned session. An order granting to the owners of certain property on the north side of Galena street between Center avenue and Jefferson street the privilege of building a 4 1/2 foot walk, was passed. Prior to the granting of the ten druggists' permits to sell liquor, Mayor Hutchinson asked the city attorney if there was not some way of compelling certain pharmacists to obey the spirit of the law. Required to pay but $10 for their licenses he was sure that some of them sold more whiskey than any single saloon and the bulk of it was not used for medicinal purposes, either. One of the aldermen said that he has personal knowledge of 13 empty whiskey barrels being hauled away from one drug store on a single occasion. City Attorney Maxfield said that he would investigate the law and report at the next meeting.

FREQUENT SHOWERS

OF THE APRIL KIND

Month of June Was Filled With Odd Variations of Weather Conditions.

June of this year was probably different than any other June for many seasons. There were numerous showers of the April kind, while the thermometer saw-sawed back and forth alternating cold and warm weather. The record would bear out the assertion that the month was on the whole pleasant but a few uncomfortably hot days, with one or two cool and rainy when the temperature was congenial made the thirty-day period generally disliked. Many outings were spoiled and numerous picnics interfered with while campers who expected to avoid storms and mosquitoes met a sad fate. The winds made their tents unsteady, the rains washed under the canvas and with the damp atmosphere came such swarms of insects as were never before seen at this time of the year. To return to a discussion of weather conditions as an official record shows they were: there were more pleasant days than cloudy and the averages show that the temperature was fairly good; the average high was 74.7; the average low, 62.1 and the general average, 68.2. The daily table follows:

| Date. | Condition. | High. | Low. |
|-------|------------|-------|------|
| 1— | Pleasant | 78 | 53 |

AUTHOR OF ARTICLE

IN TRADE JOURNAL

Otto A. Seell of This City Writes for the Northwestern Druggist.

Otto A. Seell, who is in charge of King's Pharmacy on West Milwaukee street, is the author of a very interesting article in the last issue of the Northwestern Druggist. The title of the piece is Historical Characters and Drugs They Used. What he writes is reprinted below:

"The early history of drugs is generally of interest, not alone to those of the pharmaceutical and allied professions, but to most any reader. It would, indeed, be a large and interesting field in which to gather and present facts of historical characters and their connection with drugs or chemicals. Only a few abbreviated notes concerning important drugs have been collected herein and are given without regard as to order with each other—simply a collection of heterogeneous characters, as it were. 'Gentian has been known from mythological times. Gentian, a king of Ulmia and contemporary with Perseus, is said to have made known the value of gentian and from whence it derived the name. 'The pomegranate was also well known and abundant in ancient times. Mythology speaks of the fruit in connection with Proserpine. Avicenna, the Arabian physician, who rendered service for many years to the rulers of Arabia, was well acquainted with the medicinal properties of the pomegranate. It was through Avicenna and the succeeding Mohammedan physicians of Hindoostan that the knowledge of the drug was preserved. Only in 1894 were its properties first made known to Europeans.

"Myrrh has a history dating back into the remotest antiquity. Myths are written about myrrh. In the Bible frequent references are made to the gum; in one instance, Jacob is said to have sent it to his son Joseph, the minister to Pharaoh, and again we are told that the wise men of the east bore it as a gift to the shrine of the Savior. The Greeks and the Romans used it as incense, and in the ninth century the Roman church began to use it as such. His church stories that at Poppo's death Nero burned more incense than all Arabia could produce in one year. "Spikenard is mentioned several times in the Scripture. One reference tells how, when Christ came to Bethany and entered into the house of the leper, there came a woman with a box containing a very precious spikenard ointment which she poured on his head.

"A ready history of poison homelock states that the Greeks used it to execute criminals. Socrates, the philosopher and the great statesman, drank this poison as the death penalty. Phocion, a Greek statesman, drank this poison as the death penalty. Phocion, a Greek statesman, drank this poison as the death penalty.

"We have two of the oldest types of genuine preparations, namely—the vinegars remaining as official. The story has been told in connection with the solvent properties of acetic acid, that on the eve of the battle of Philip, about 42 B. C., Cleopatra in Philip, Anthony to a banquet. While feasting the queen exhibited a large pearl and then placed it in a goblet of wine.

"The pearl dissolved in the wine and this she drank. The explanation offered was that the wine was a sour wine and having the nature of vinegar, it could be easily understood that the pearl would be dissolved.

"In 1640 Cinchona was introduced into Europe by the Jesuits, and for some time it was known as Jesuit powder. In 1734, La Condamine, a French geographer, explored the Amazon basin and studied the tree, and Linnaeus, the naturalist, four years later proposed the name cinchona, in honor of the Spanish countess of Cinchona, who aided the poor by supplying them with the drug.

"We are all familiar with the story of Sir Raleigh introducing the use of tobacco into England. Napoleon Bonaparte used saffron in perfuming his apartments. Sulfuric acid was received as a reputation as a remedy in croup, after the publication of the essay to which the prize was offered by Napoleon, for the best dissertation on that disease. Louis Lucien Bonaparte, the French philologist, first proposed the use of zinc valerianate as a remedy for epilepsy.

"The new instances above noted, have, therefore, pointed out some of the world's great characters as soldiers, statesmen, philosophers, physicians, explorers, adventurers, kings and queens, showing the influence the use of drugs has upon them, not alone in the therapeutic sense, but in religion, in education, in phantasy, in love and in death."

LAY UNDER FALLEN

TENT AS CYCLONE

PASSED OVER THEM

Janesville Young Lady in Terrible Storm While Encamped on Illinois River—Great Destruction and Loss of Life All About.

Miss Mabel Glenn of this city, who is on a boat trip down the Illinois river with her brother, Dr. Glenn, and a party from Chicago, writes of a wonderful experience they had in a cyclone last Wednesday. Just before reaching Ottawa they ran into some obstruction and broke their rudder. While waiting at Ottawa, for a new one they were caught in a genuine cyclone. Houses and barns were unroofed and many blown down; trees torn out by the roots and lying all around them. Three spans of a bridge over the river were lifted and blown into the river. A man crossing with a team was carried down the river and all were drowned. Their tents were blown down and some of their bedding carried a half-mile. The ladies laid flat on the ground under a fallen tent and the men managed to hold the campers down so they kept from being swept away. A pouring rain and severe hailstorm accompanied the raging cyclone, making it anything but a pleasure trip while it lasted. None of them were hurt and expected to go on their way rejoicing the next day.

WEEKLY REPORT ON

VIRGINIA TOBACCO

About 200,000 pounds of tobacco were sold on the Lynchburg, Va., market during the past week at fairly good and satisfactory prices. Indications point to an average crop this year.

Very reasonable weather is prevailing at Richmond, Va., and as a result the contiguous counties report the best stand of tobacco obtained in several years. The new crop is in good condition and is growing nicely and magnificent results are expected after the fall curing. Of course, unseasonable weather would deter the growth of the crop and consequently affect the yield. It is expected that an average crop will be realized. Quite a number of sales were recorded during the past week, but such offerings were in a moldy condition. The summer market is quite active, large receipts being noted. The receipts of bright tobacco continues light, with a quiet and firm market and unchanged quotations. Reordered, dark, fired tobacco has appeared in only small quantities.

EDGERTON DEDICATED CHURCH WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

The Congregational church of Edgerton was formally rededicated on Sunday last and the occasion was celebrated with services of special interest. In the morning the Rev. Dr. Daland of Milton college preached the sermon and with the Rev. L. H. Keller of Milwaukee, the founder of the church, assisted the pastor, Rev. L. A. Parr, in formally rededicating the church. An impressive service was held in the evening when the Rev. R. C. Denison of Janesville preached to a large audience. Rev. Keller also participated in the service. About $500 was raised during the day towards defraying the debt. The church is now completed after being in a disturbed condition for many months. During last summer, while the pastor was in England, the building was raised and new Sunday school and social rooms added. After that work was finished plans were submitted and accepted for the enlargement and renovation of the auditorium. The walls and ceilings have been covered with embossed steel with designs standing out in bas relief. A pleasing harmony of color is presented, the wall-panels being painted in oak and blending into buff and white and gold. The lighting of the interior has also received considerable attention and it has been completely lighted and a handsome new chandelier hung in place. The estimated cost of the improvements is $3,500; of this $1,000 remains unpaid, but additional offers, made since Sunday last, will be offered to believe that the debt will be wiped off by Jan. 1, 1907.

THE HAIR BRUSH

Breeds Dandruff, Which Causes Falling Hair and Finally Baldness. Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says that dandruff is as contagious as any other malevolent disease, and that one common source of the spread of dandruff is the use of the same hair brush by different persons. The way to avoid catching dandruff from any other disease from another's brush, is to insist on the use of Now-Bro's Hairbrush. It not only kills the dandruff germ, but it is also an anti-septic that will prevent the catching of any disease whatever through contagion of another's brush. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpiche Co., Detroit, Mich.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

The Wadsworth Bros. of Chicago is a Long Hana Filler, Says The Smith Drug Co., and They Can Prove It.

When a cigar salesman told Mr. Ed. Smith of the Smith Drug Company that it was not possible to sell a long Havana filler, such as the claim the Wadsworth Bros. of Chicago is, the reply was: "Well, it is an easy thing to see whether it can be done or not, and he took a Chico from his box and cut it open."

The filler was there—long, rich, silky Havana—just what was needed to make the good smoke that the Chico is. Seeing is believing, but with the Chico, smoking is better. Try one and see for yourself. All lovers of a good smoke, how fine a cigar can be sold for 5c. The best people in Janesville, those who never used to smoke anything less than a 10c cigar, now buy the Chico at the Smith Drug Company for a nickel, and get a better smoke for less money.

THE STORY OF CLASSIFIED TOWN

CHAPTER XXI.

To Classified Town one day came a clerk:
A bright honest youth who was looking for work.
He searched many weeks but all was in vain.
Till at last his order began to wane.
His hat was soiled, and his suit was worn;
His heart was sad, and he looked forlorn.
"A way I'll show," remarked a friend,
"To all your troubles quickly end."
"Put a want ad small, two lines or more,
In Gazette ads—it will soon restore,
Your failing hope and renew ambition.
Through Gazette ads you'll obtain a position."

...FORTY YEARS AGO...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, July 3, 1896.—For Milton.—The Janesville Concert Band took their departure this forenoon for Milton where they furnish the instrumental music at the commencement, exercise at Milton Academy. Whatever else they have, the Miltonians will have some good music.

The concert, as everyone knew it would be, was a tip-top affair. The performances of the orchestra were superb, the singing was of the first order, and Professor Titcomb's playing was worthy of the best masters of the piano. With Charles Colwell he played a perfect gem of a duet which the audience insisted on having repeated. The attendance was quite large, though not over two-thirds as large as it would have been, had the weather not been so threatening.

about the time of the commencement of the performance. We have not yet heard the amount of the proceeds.

The Last Night.—The alarm of fire which was sounded about 10 o'clock last night proceeded from the feed mill occupied by Campbell & Kleise on Main street. The fire was caused by the bursting of a kerosene lamp which Mr. Campbell was carrying about the premises. He states he was about to set the lamp down when it exploded, filling his eyes with the fluid and almost blinding him. Fortunately the fire was not communicated to his person or his clothes which were literally sprinkled with kerosene. The building was speedily in flames and the upper story was destroyed before the fire could be subdued. There was an insurance of $12,000 on the building and stock. The loss will be several hundred dollars.

fast tables, to place it in the hands of the wives, sons, daughters of the men of free America.

"They will perform their vile duty well. They have proven their worth as moral scavengers many and many a time. No man need doubt as he leaves his home each morning during that trial, that the full sense and shame of the details of this story will be laid before the eyes of his wife and daughters before he comes back home in the evening.

"If any editor were to send into your home a copy, a single copy, of some depraved French novel, or if he were to place in your daughter's hands the degenerate drivel of a Wilde, you would almost be justified in shooting him on sight. But he may send his reporters to a court of the United States, and he may gather under the broad freedom of this sovereign country all the vice, rottenness, putridity of this fearful story—and he may tell it freely, openly, glorifying in the completeness of his tale.

"It is a melancholy commentary upon the newspaper ethics of the day to have to admit that 'circulation' looms so large in the business horizon of Park Row. Undoubtedly, most of the men who will gather and publish this mass of filth are educated gentlemen, whose instincts turn from such a story, with all its sickening details. They are slaves of the almighty dollar, and success is measured, here as elsewhere, by 'results' in the counting room.

"The laws of the United States make it a misdemeanor to bring into this country certain literature. Again, the postal laws make it a crime to send through the mails salacious postal cards, and many other writings which carry with them corruption, yet these same laws will protect and assist the distribution of these newspapers, worse, a hundred times, than any mere novel, or any mere picture.

To thousands of young girls and boys throughout the United States there is coming in the next few months their first glimpse, their first knowledge, of the practices and vices that wrecked the Roman Empire.

"Two agents will conspire to teach to these young men and women this, their first lesson in vice. The court of the United States is the first. The press of the United States is the second.

"Some time there will be a law to touch upon this fearful thing. Some time the boundless freedom of the press will find a limit. There should be a law upon our statute books to close the doors of the courtroom in such a case as this. There should be a law also to close the mouths of these vile scandal scavengers."

1892-1906.

"Enemies of protection in 1906 are using precisely the same arguments against the Dingley tariff that were used against the McKinley tariff in 1892. In spite of the splendid work being done for labor and production by the McKinley tariff the cry was raised that prices were too high. That is the cry today of free-traders, tariff reformers and tariff revisionists. Then, as now, the demand was for free raw materials. Well, the revised tariff of 1894 provided free raw materials, and a large part of the mills and factories that were thus favored either went out of business or went into bankruptcy. The country was given all the advantages of increased foreign competition as a means of breaking down domestic prices, and idleness, ruin, disaster and soup-kitchens were the result. Again the talk is of free raw materials and of increased foreign competition though reciprocity and tariff revision downward. Thirteen years is not a very long time, but it is long enough to bring forgetfulness to a large number of people who ought to know better than to forget the awful consequences of trying to revise protection out of the tariff. Protectionists should pull themselves together, and use all possible diligence in trying to prevent a recurrence of the awful blunder of 1892.

Dowie's Pie Crust Shortener.

Sheboygan Journal: The Minnesota food commission declares that a patent pie crust shortener manufactured at Zion City is composed of tallow and cotton seed oil. As Dowie doesn't believe in pork it looks a little unreasonable for the commission to demand that shortening be shortening.

Broad Chivalry.

Chicago Record-Herald: Justice Brewer of the United States Supreme Court recently said: "Secretary Taft is the politest man alive. I hear that recently he arose in a street car and gave his seat to three women." It will have to be admitted that the man who does such a noble thing must be the possessor of true greatness.

Railroads, His Diet.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The recent announcement that Senator La Follette has not eaten meat in ten years leads The Kansas City Journal to remark: "His diet consists principally of railroads with an occasional Wisconsin politician thrown in as a relish." Perhaps Mr. Houser will understand this last reference.

"Heraus Mit Em!"

Madison Democrat: Too much time is given to discussing the conduct of that worthless degenerate Thaw. Such as he ought to have no place in society or the world of respectability. Lives like his are un-American and should not be enacted on American soil. Out with the whole disgraceful coterie of degenerates!

A Nervous Job.

El Paso Herald: Those two 10,000-ton battleships, the Michigan and South Carolina, will probably cost between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000 apiece. Either sum is a good deal of money to put into the hands of a commander of either will like to be responsible for these days. It must be a nervous job running around several million dollars' worth of fine machinery with the knowledge all the time that an unsuspected sand bank or casual rock may put the whole outfit out of business. And it is probably more than slow promotion that makes the average navy captain gray-headed.

KICKERS' KOLUM.

A Quiet Fourth.

Editor Gazette: Some people are in favor of a quiet; yes, very quiet, fourth of July. While others like to have all the noise we were taught to make from childhood up, in fact, so much noise as to shock the most sensitive sensibilities of our grandfathers and grandmas. Now, in behalf of the patriotic boys and girls, as well as those who favor the "sane" fourth of July, it is suggested to have things quiet of course. Let the firemen, to provide for a run out, wrap the wheels of their apparatus with carpet and all other vehicles not provided with rubber tires be wrapped to ward against noise. Stop the street cars. Stop the blowing of those horrid auto horns. Don't allow the steam cars to ring their bells nor blow their horns or other whistles. Forbid music by the bands on the streets or parks, but a liberal display of crape would add to the quiet scene, supplemented by a parade of the Lead, Dyson, Law and Order societies.

WHERE CASH GOES

ANALYZES APPROPRIATIONS BY LAST CONGRESS.

DUE TO COUNTRY'S GROWTH

Declares People Demand Federal Government Shall Perform Duties Coming Properly Within Province of States.

Washington, July 3.—Representative Tawney, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, has prepared a detailed statement concerning the appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1906, made by congress during the session just closed, in which he claims that the per capita cost of the government of the United States, including federal and state, is less than in any European state.

Mr. Tawney enters upon an analysis to show the various channels into which the total appropriation of $880,183,301 will be diverted. He begins by deducting $129,455,415 provided for the sinking fund, the Panama canal, etc., showing that the real appropriation for the conduct of the government for the fiscal year is $750,725,886. To meet this demand he estimates that the total revenues (customs, internal and postal) will be $781,573,364.

The appropriations are made in the various supply bills as follows:

Agriculture, $9,932,940; army, $71,317,165; diplomatic and consular, $2,001,094; district of Columbia, $10,138,692; fortifications, $5,053,993; Indian, $9,200,400; legislative, etc., $29,741,019; military academy, $1,094,708; navy, $102,671,650; pension, $140,245,500; post office, $191,635,939; sundry civil, $98,274,574. Total, $973,987,724.

Isthmian canal deficiency bill, $11,000,000; urgent deficiency, 1906 and prior years, $16,270,232; urgent deficiency, additional, 1906 and prior years, $274,925; deficiency 1906 and prior years, $11,575,989.

Total regular annual appropriations, $1,400,070,326. Grand total regular and permanent annual appropriations, $880,183,301.

Where Increase Goes.

The aggregate appropriation is $60,000,000 in excess of that for last year.

Of the various increases, that of $3,000,000 is made on account of meat inspection; $1,420,533 on account of the army; $908,945 to carry the new consular law into effect; $1,724,970 on account of the navy; $1,985,400 on account of pensions; $10,673,935 on account of the post-office department, of which $3,030,000 was for rural free delivery. Of the appropriations made, about $31,000,000 was unestimated for. Included in this $31,000,000 was the following: $10,250,000 allotted in the statehood act; $1,000,000 for arming and equipping the militia, $2,500,000 on account of the earthquake and fire at San Francisco, $500,000 on account of the new quarantine law, $10,231,000 on account of public buildings.

Mr. Tawney comments as follows on the volume of the appropriations:

"While the expenditures of our government are constantly increasing and while the appropriations made therefore by congress are in the aggregate very large, yet when we take into consideration the marvelous growth of the country, the extent to which the people demand that the federal government shall perform services that should be fulfilled by the states, none but the unthinking or misguided who do not stop to consider the care with which the estimates for appropriations for the public service are scrutinized, by the several committees having jurisdiction of appropriation bills, can find any reason to criticize appropriations made during this session of congress."

Democratic Comment.

In a statement made for the Democratic minority, Representative Livingston makes a comparison of the expenditures provided for by this congress, $880,183,301, with the expenditures of 1898, the first year of President McKinley's administration, when the figures were $258,735,079, a difference of $621,448,222. Commenting on this showing, he says:

"This growth in appropriations sustains the contention that the Republican party stands for extravagance in public expenditures in order to use that extravagance as a cloak for their more objectionable purpose of maintaining a high protective tariff to favor the trust combinations of manufacturers of the country."

"A reduction of expenditures, they well know, would compel a commensurate reduction in taxation, and to that extent a lowering of the Chinese wall of protection that now surrounds the great body of consumers, who constitute the larger portion of our population and compel tribute from them to the favored classes."

"Much of this extravagance grows out of the practice prevailing with the present administration of appointing commissions to do what congress ought to do and what congressmen are elected and paid for, thus delegating the powers constitutionally belonging to congress to others who have no particular relations with or responsibilities to the public and do not render an account to the taxpayers of this country."

To afford an idea of the magnitude of this year's appropriations, Mr. Livingston says:

"Our corn crop of 1899, valued at $283,792,388, could have been paid for with the total appropriations made at this session and a few millions to spare."

MAD RACE OF CHICAGO AUTOS THIS MORNING.

First Arrest in Janesville's History for Violation of the 12-Mile Speed Law.

So tolerant and lenient has been the Janesville disposition towards transgressors of the speed laws on her public highways that the arrest of two chauffeurs who gave an unusual demonstration on Milwaukee street this morning caused a veritable sensation. Paul D. Kelley of the wholesale hardware firm of Kelley, Maus & Co., Chicago, driving Mr. Hubbard of the Hubbard, Spencer, Bartlett Co., a Mr. Babcock, the Misses Morgan, Cooper and Paldini, and a pair of speed pilots of Scandinavian ancestry named Axel Thompson and Frank Johnson, arrived from the Windy City in two large touring cars last evening and took possession of the six suites of rooms engaged ahead at the Grand hotel. One of the cars was a French machine of the M. Berliet make with a potential speed of 63 miles an hour. It was red in color and its number was 928. The other was a high-power Packard, drab-colored, and numbered 402-A.

Toot! Toot!—Zip!

The exhilaration of the pure country air affected the two descendants of the Vikings before they had been in the city an hour and they took some spurts on the streets last evening which caused staid wayfarers on the sidewalks to look up and take notice. The cars were finally steered into the Pierson garage on South Main for some needed repairs and the city once more settled down to its customary Monday evening repose. About 9:45 this morning the owners gave notice that they were ready to resume the journey and the two chauffeurs and Mr. Babcock made their way to the garage, with the balance of the party in waiting at the hotel. When the cars had pushed out on South Main the chauffeurs threw on the high speed and rounded onto Milwaukee street at a terrific gait. As they raced up Milwaukee street at a two-minute clip, dodging vehicles, street cars, and pedestrians by almost a hair's breadth in their mad flight, the amazed inmates of stores and office buildings rushed onto the street and gazed after them in apprehension and alarm. One party who held a watch averred that the entire trip was made in 21 seconds. Chauncey Millmore, Frank Kimball, and Ex-Alderman Edward Schmiedley acted promptly, the first named telephoning the police station and advising City Marshal Appleby of what had happened, offering the services of himself and the others as witnesses. The city marshal reached the scene just as the party was preparing to depart and placed the two chauffeurs under arrest.

Fined $15 Each and Costs

A large gallery had assembled in municipal court when the two offenders were brought before Judge Field, charged with operating an automobile on West Milwaukee street at a speed exceeding the 12-miles-an-hour limit—to wit: 20 miles. Frank Johnson said that he had no idea that he was going faster than 12 miles and that he did not know about the law. His employer told him to plead guilty and explained that he had told the men to get the machines and hurry up. Axel Thompson assumed a mournful mien and while pleading a conscience void of offense, the officers had said he was driving the car faster than allowed and he supposed he must of been, though it seemed incredible. The owners told Judge Field just how skillful their men were in handling the cars, endeavoring to show that their superior talents in this direction more than offset the danger of accident incurred by higher speed, but the court would not be persuaded that the race had not been run with great danger to life and limb. He fined each chauffeur $15 and costs amounting to $2.50 and the owners handed over $35.60 to close the "incident." The ice-box having been well stocked with champagne and the sandwiches locked filled, the two machines moved off at a leisurely pace for Rockford about 11 a. m.

Excursion to Harlem Park, July 10.

The announcement that there would be another series of the "soulful" music this summer and that the concerts would commence on Monday, July 2, brought hundreds to the Court House park last evening. Postponement until Thursday or Friday will only whet their appetite for the music the more and a full turnout is expected. The Gazette will try to print the program of each evening's concert the afternoon of each concert day and the use of the cut of either the band or Leader Knell will designate the program. The following is the program for the last of the present week:

Novellette—"FIFI"
Waltz—"Loveland"

REV. FR. GOEBEL HIGHLY PRAISED

BY SPEAKERS AT SILVER JUBILEE BANQUET TODAY.

CHURCH SCHOOL MENTIONED

Numerous Gifts of Money and Silver—Large Attendance at Solemn High Mass.

Weather conditions joined with the people of St. Mary's parish today in making the silver jubilee celebration of Rev. Fr. W. A. Goebel an event that will be long remembered in the history of the church. The program as originally arranged was carried out to the letter. Fr. Goebel celebrated solemn high mass at half-past ten this morning and the congregation which came to witness and hear the discourse extended far beyond the portals of the church. The Very Rev. L. W. Mulhane of Mt. Vernon, O., who preached, Fr. Goebel's first mass, delivered the sermon and spoke of his early life and long friendship with the Janesville priest.

At half-past twelve this noon a discourse banquet was served by the ladies of the congregation in St. Mary's hall. During the dinner Knell and Hatch's orchestra played. Fr. Mulhane acted as toastmaster and gave the principal address on the post-prandial program. Miss Ursula Goebel presented the guest of honor with a handsome cut glass casket. John Campion, representing the men of the church, was donor of a purse. Mrs. H. O. Olsen, in behalf of the married women, gave a set of solid silver knives and forks and a silver bread tray. Miss Julia Enright spoke for the young ladies in presenting a purse. Mae Abbott appeared for the First Communion class, which gave a cut glass tankard. Joseph Connors, representing the Knights of Columbus officers, presented a candelabra. J. T. Cunningham from the K. of C. council presented a silver punch bowl and Rev. Bourgmeier represented the visiting clergy. All on the program spoke highly of Fr. Goebel and Fr. Bourgmeier, mentioning Mr. Goebel as a man who accomplished things, said that the time would come when there would be a parochial school connected with St. Mary's church. Among others called on for remarks were the Hon. Ogden H. Fethers and V. P. Richardson.

Among the visiting clergymen were the Very Reverend H. Galski of Milwaukee and L. W. Mulhane of Mt. Vernon, Ohio; the Reverend F. H. Schneider, Beer and M. Domachoski of Milwaukee; J. M. Bach and George Meyer of Jefferson; J. Ward and Hans of Beloit; F. Lillis of Platteville; S. Buckley of Delavan; J. A. Bourgmeier of Kibbourn; E. B. Schtreit of Kansasville and Nichol of Eagle.

T. J. Ziegler Clothing Co.'s Big Semi-Annual $7 Suit-Selling Event.

On Thursday, July 5th, the T. J. Ziegler Clothing Co. starts another of their great semi-annual $7 suit sales. The last one took place last February and hundreds of people took advantage of the opportunity at that time to secure a suit at $7 that was really worth much more. The back-ward season has left many broken lots of high-grade this-season's style clothing on hand, and in pursuance of their established policy of never carrying stock over those will all be placed on sale at the one-price of $7. $12, $15, $18 and even $20 suits are included in the lot. This firm's well-known reputation for always doing exactly as they say they will do, and of not advertising a single thing that is not backed up by both stock and price, will be the means of inspiring confidence in those who have not in former times taken advantage of these semi-annual sales.

CHEF DESERTS THE CLUB, BUT LADIES RUSH TO THE RESCUE IN NOBLE MANNER

House Committee of Golf Club Determine Nothing Shall Stop Club Supper.

Sometime between twilight and dawn the chef of the golf links took his departure. Today is club day; tonight is club supper and a dance to follow. The sad news was waited to the house committee early this morning and heroic measures were necessary. Tonight at six the club supper will be served, but it will be the concoction of the house committee—not the chef. The "Life Saving Station," however, refuse to operate. Tomorrow those who visit the links can take their good old-fashioned lunch baskets with them and cook their own coffee and enjoy the club house as they used to. This evening, however, the regular club supper will be served and the Tuesday dance held.

VICTIMS' BODIES BOUND FOR HOME

EMBALMERS AT SALISBURY FINISH GREWSOME TASKS.

QUEER DOINGS AT INQUEST

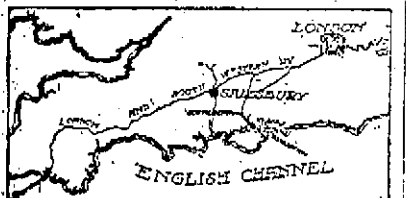

English Methods of Investigating Cause of Wreck Appear Strange to American Spectators at Proceedings.

Salisbury, England, July 3.—The embalmers have prepared the majority of the bodies of the score of Americans who lost their lives in the wreck of the Plymouth express Sunday morning for their return for burial in the land they left so recently in the fullness of life and hope.

Frederick H. Cossitt's body already has been forwarded to London on its way to America.

The inquest Monday was a prolonged and tedious formality which utterly failed to give any idea of the cause of the accident.

No questions on that point were asked and the subject seemed to be avoided—a strange proceeding to the many Americans present, but which is thought to be due to the queer formalism that seems characteristic of such cases in this country.

Map Showing Where Train Was Wrecked.

The proceedings were solemn, sad and monotonous, so much so that spectators surprised a juror by asking what necessity there was to adjourn the inquest for a fortnight. No answer was given. The delay is believed to be due to the declared intention of the board of trade to institute an investigation.

Lack of Emotion.

It seems strange to Americans that while the population of Salisbury is shocked by the disaster practically no emotion is displayed. It would seem as if such accidents were an everyday occurrence, and yet nothing even remotely approaching it has heretofore disturbed the peace of this city. There have been no scenes, no groans, nothing of the picturesque tragic element associated with the pit mouth in times of trouble so familiar to those in coal mining regions. There is genuine sorrow, no doubt, but beyond the formal expression it has not yet been translated into action.
